Open Letter to Our Hon. Congressman

Dear Oren Harris:

You have refused to listen to Alex. Washburn and some 1,255 Hope citizens who signed a petition asking that you use your influence in the national congress to stop wasteful spending of the taxpayers' money.

You have made the statement that the GSA (General Services Administration) has definitely decided that it is going to build a new post office in Hope. Now, you fail to represent the majority of the citizens in where this post office should be situated. You have decided to represent an infinitesimal group of our town instead.

The events which have transpired and which have caused me to write this letter are as follows:

First, you and the group mentioned above met and decided that the post office should be located on South Elm Street, some six blocks from its present location. The howl was so loud that you heard it all the way to your home in Washington.

Second, you and those same few people met and decided that to appease the people you would move it some three blocks from its present location in the other direction.

Third, the business men of Hope called the GSA and asked that it make a further survey of still a third site which is more centrally located for the downtown area and which would afford ample space for the proposed building. The GSA came and made this third survey and stated that this would be an ideal spot for the proposed building and that it would also remove from the downtown area some old and unsightly buildings. This in turn would increase the value of the property in the downtown area. This usually is not true; but it is true in this particular case because the buildings now occupying the third proposed post office site are in a run-down condition and new federal construction on this third site would definitely increase the value of downtown property. This would not be true if the post office were placed on the No. 2 site on East Second Street.

Fourth, these Hope business men talked to the GSA office in Dallas and it is their understanding that the Dallas office has received orders and that the contract is to be let and construction started on the new post office on the East Second Street location by July 1, 1964.

I believe a congressman should represent all of the people and not just a very small minority. If you continue to insist upon representing this small part of the Fourth Arkansas Congressional District then you can, best assured, you will have opposition in the forthcoming primary.

DEAN MURPHY

Southland Heights
Hope, Arkansas

Ed Note: In reporting to the Associated Press today this latest development in the public debate over the Hope Post Office The Star gave the following personal data on Mr. Murphy:

He is 45, owner of Dean's Truck Stop just west of Hope on U.S. 67, is a former resident of Ashdown and for six years was circuit and chancery clerk of Little River county. During that time he studied law in the law offices of former Arkansas Chief Justice C. E. Johnson.

Mr. Murphy attended the University of Tennessee and Tex-arkana College studying government.

He is a member of the state policy committee of the Arkansas Department of the American Legion, is a former District 12 commander of the Legion, and presently commander of the Hope Legion Post.

He is a past district deputy grand master of District 2 of Arkansas Masonry and past master of the Foreman Lodge.

Mr. Murphy is married, has two children, is a deacon in Hope's First Baptist Church, and teaches the Men's Bible Class.

Associated Press Report —

HOPE, Ark. (AP)—An opponent of a planned new federal building for Hope wrote Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., today that he could expect opposition in this summer's Democratic primary if the building plans go through.

Dean Murphy, owner of Dean's Truck Stop west of Hope and a former circuit and chancery clerk of Little River county, told Harris he was not representing the majority of the people in Hempstead County. Murphy released his letter to newsmen.

He didn't say who the candidate might be.

"You have made the statement that the General Services Administration has definitely decided that it is going to build a new post office in Hope," Murphy wrote.

He told Harris "You have refused to listen to Alex. Washburn and some 1,255 Hope citizens who signed a petition asking that you use your influence in the Congress to stop wasteful spending of the taxpayers' money."

Washburn, publisher of the Hope Star, initiated a petition campaign against the post office proposal. He said the 1,255 signatures made up a majority in any city primary vote.

Washburn said today that his opposition to the post office will continue. He called the refusal of Harris to recognize the petition "a monumental double-cross by the Washingtonians."

Washburn says the new federal building is not needed and is an example of how the federal government wastes money.

The government first planned to build the federal building outside the business district. When the petition campaign started, Washburn said Harris telegraphed him that the project was final in a new location on the east side of town.

On Feb. 13, 35 businessmen endorsed a third site and asked the General Services Administration to survey it.

Washburn said the GSA office made the survey. He contended that this proved that the project wasn't finalized in the second location, as he said Harris had told him.

A spokesman for the General Services Administration office in Dallas confirmed today that the survey had been made. He said the matter is now in the hands of the Post Office Department in Washington.

Union Boycott of Wheat to Russia Still on

By NEIL GILBRIDE

Associated Press Labor Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A union boycott blocking multi-million-dollar shipments of U.S. wheat to Russia continued today after the collapse of negotiations between labor leaders and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Not one bushel of wheat will be loaded in U.S. ports until federal officials guarantee at least half of all grain shipments to Soviet bloc countries will go in American vessels, said President Thomas W. Gleason of the International Longshoremen's Union.

Eight ships are tied up by the boycott in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

Wirtz left for Washington after four futile days of talks, saying the union's demand raised urgent problems affecting U.S. foreign policy, balance of payments and trade policy that could only be solved in highest level conferences in Washington.

Wirtz failed in a last-minute plea to union officials to lift the boycott until such conferences could be arranged.

President Johnson's personal appeals to labor leaders also failed to budge the adamant stand of the unions.

The longshoremen and other maritime unions had the full backing of the AFL-CIO in resisting the Johnson administration's request to load the wheat for Russia.

Congress to Finish Tax Slash Bill

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress plans to send to President Johnson the $11.5-billion tax cut bill this week before the opening round of the Senate's civil rights battle gets underway.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana intercepted the House-passed 11-point rights measure when it arrived at the Senate last Monday to prevent it from being sent to the Judiciary Committee—long a graveyard for civil rights proposals.

As soon as Mansfield moves to bring the bill up for consideration, probably late this week, Southern opponents are expected to start their filibuster.

Before that, Senate Democratic leaders hope to bring up a cotton-wheat bill, which some Republicans blocked from debate Friday.

Quick approval is expected in both houses of the compromise tax bill, agreed on Wednesday by Senate-House conferees.

The timetable calls for House action on the compromise Tuesday, with the Senate poised to consider it the following day.

The reductions, largest in history, will be reflected in more take-home pay starting in mid-March for taxpayers subject to withholding from wages and salaries.

Otherwise, the floor programs for the week include House consideration of some relatively minor measures and a bill dealing with the length and frequency of broadcast commercials.

The Senate also has on its docket a house-passed $16.9 billion defense authorization bill.

Headlining Senate committee activity will be resumption Tuesday of the Senate Rules Committee investigation of the financial activities of Bobby Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats. Baker last week declined to furnish financial records for the committee. He is scheduled to appear before them in public Tuesday.

Hope Retired Teacher Is Medal Winner

Mrs. P. L. Perkins of Hope won the newly-established Valley Forge Retired Teachers Medal for "An Open Letter to American Youth" it was announced last Friday. The winner in Arkansas was selected from 10 letters submitted by retired teachers and was judged by a distinguished national and school awards jury. The medals will be presented in May by the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa., at a time and place to be announced later.

According to word received by Mrs. Perkins from the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, her letter was "an outstanding accomplishment in helping to achieve a better understanding of the American Way of Life."

Mrs. Perkins taught English for 35 years, many of which were in Hope, before her retirement a few years ago. That "retirement" was only from the classroom, for she continued her working pace by being co-author of a Language; Book Series with L. H. Taylor of Waco, Texas, a school superintendent.

The series is for grade 5 through 9, and the last of these was issued on the week of February 10. These books are being used throughout the United States, and the authors expressed their aim at writing them in this way: "To teach the child to think should be the aim of education as a whole in these perilous times we face and that is what we have tried to do."

Station Used for House of Ill Repute

NEW YORK (AP)—Fire Commissioner Edward Thompson, blazing mad over reports that women "allegedly of ill repute" have frequented a Manhattan firehouse, has suspended five firemen, including the company captain.

"The reputation of the department could be at stake," Thompson said.

He said an investigation begun last month showed that more than once "unauthorized civilians, both male and female," had visited the firehouse of Engine Co. 35 on East 119th St.

Thompson said the women were in the firehouse more than once, but he declined to give further details. The third floor quarters of the firehouse reportedly was involved.

Half of the company's 30 firemen have been quizzed thus far, Thompson said, adding: "All of the men in this company are not evil men, but they will all be questioned."

Formal allegations will be filed against the suspended firemen next week for a departmental hearing. The commissioner said the hearing will be open.

The suspended fire captain, Joseph J. Sosa, 45, of Floral Park, N.Y., is a 22-year veteran with two heroism awards.

Also suspended were: Martin Buchalter, 33, of Staten Island; Alfred W. Cordes, 35, and John J. McHugh, 27, both of the Bronx; and William Allen, 31, of Richmond Hill, Queens.

All five were accused of "conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline, conduct tending to bring reproach upon the department, and disorderly conduct."

An additional charge of "conduct unbecoming an officer" was filed against Sosa.

Justice Is Speaker at Masonic Meet

"We want to face all problems of life like George Washington did," Associate Justice E. F. McFaddin of the Arkansas Supreme Court told a group to 100 at the annual George Washington Day dinner for members of Whitfield Masonic Lodge No. 239 and their ladies held Friday night.

Explaining his topic, "Why We Observe George Washington's Birthday," Justice McFaddin said, "Masonry made George Washington the great man that he was." He, then, outlined the steps Washington took in his Masonic work, beginning with an Entered Apprentice degree when he was only 20 years of age.

Trouble and problems were nothing new to Washington when he met the British Army, for his struggles had ranged from lack of funds for an education to two examples of unrequited love to untold agonies because of dental trouble. Though he became commander of the small army in a new land as a compromise choice, his strength of character made possible American independence, according to the speaker.

Preceding the talk, a delicious meal was served buffet style by member of Chapter 328 Order of the Eastern Star, in a dining area attractively decorated in a patriotic mode. The group was extended a welcome by Dean Murphy, who presented Worshipful Master Robert Shirley. Then, in a clever and humorous way Roy Anderson introduced the speaker for the evening who is a life-long friend and former Hope neighbor of his.

Thant Reaches Crucial Stage in Cyprus Plan

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General U Thant reached a crucial stage today in diplomatic talks on his plan to ease the crisis on the smoldering island of Cyprus.

Thant brought British delegate Sir Patrick Dean and Cypriot Foreign Minister Spiros Kyprianou together for the first time at a 90-minute Sunday conference in his office. He expressed belief "the picture will be clearer" today.

One U.N. diplomat said Thant had reached a "difficult stage" in his effort to get agreement on an international peace force for Cyprus buttressed up before the Security Council resumes debate Tuesday on the crisis.

Thant's efforts were reported snagged by a dispute over whether any Cyprus resolution submitted to the 11-nation council should mention the 1960 treaty of guarantee that accompanied the island's grant of independence from Britain.

The treaty says Britain, Turkey and Greece can intervene independently in Cyprus to preserve constitutional arrangements between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The United States, Britain and Turkey interpret this as an authorization for military intervention and want the treaty mentioned.

Greece and the Cypriot government, which is in the hands of the Greek Cypriot majority, oppose any mention of the treaty. They fear it will be used to justify a Turkish invasion to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority. The Greek Cypriot majority wants to end the minority's constitutional rights of veto over various types of legislation.

Dispatches from Cyprus said the Mediterranean island is turning into a vast armed camp as thousands of young men and some women on both sides receive weapons training.

The Greek Cypriots said they were preparing to repel threatened invasion from Turkey, 40 miles off the island's north coast.

Turkish Cypriots said they were getting ready to repel a Greek attack.

2 of 48 Are Picked for Ruby Trial

By RELMAN MORIN

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby's murder trial goes into the second week today, opening a new round of bitter in-fighting between prosecution and defense over assembling a jury to decide the night club operator's fate.

Of 48 persons examined to date, only two have been accepted as jurors.

None of the courtroom principals expresses optimism about completing the 12-man panel this week.

"It looks like the middle of the following week now," said Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade.

"I said we couldn't get a jury and my prediction has been right," said Ruby's chief counsel, Melvin Belli of San Francisco.

"I'm not happy or unhappy about the first week," said Judge Joe B. Brown.

Of the 48 persons questioned, 20 were disqualified when they said they could not vote to send Ruby, or anyone else, to the electric chair. Another 16 were disqualified "for cause" — such as having formed an opinion about the case or being opposed to the suspended-sentence law in a murder case.

Two factors are contributing to the slow progress.

One is Belli's contention that Ruby can't get a fair trial in Dallas. He says the city is saturated with prejudice, ashamed of the fact that President John F. Kennedy was assassinated here, and is bent on vindicating itself by executing Ruby.

The second factor is that this is the first death case in which the killing was seen on television.

Cameras recorded the instant when Ruby, a Dallas night club operator, killed Lee Harvey Oswald, who had been charged with the assassination of Kennedy.

Belli contends, again and again, that anyone who saw the televised scene is a witness. Under Texas law, he argues, such persons are disqualified to serve as jurors. The prosecution disputes this interpretation of the law, and Brown has ruled with Wade.

In questioning jury candidates, Ruby's attorneys ask: "Did you see the television of the shooting of Oswald?"

If the prospect says he has, the defense asks him to describe what he saw.

Then, Ruby's lawyers ask the prospective juror if he was "horrorified" or "upset." Or they often ask: "And you will carry this memory to your grave, won't you?" Should the prospect agree, the defense immediately moves to disqualify him as incapable of judging Ruby impartially.

This touches off heated wrangles with the prosecution. It grew to fierce last week that Brown warned a defense lawyer, Joe Tonahill, he was bordering on being in contempt of court.

Ruby watches the proceedings closely. He frequently chews gum, confers in whispers with his attorneys. He sometimes nods or smiles at reporters sitting behind his chair. Occasionally, when lawyers point him out to a prospective juror, he nods toward the man or woman on the witness stand.

"He's becoming more nervous the days go by," Belli said, "but generally he's holding up well."

More Marches Planned By P.B. Negroes

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — The anti-segregation Pine Bluff Movement urged 350 Negroes Sunday to appear at a March 2 city council meeting to demand a public accommodations ordinance at Pine Bluff.

And Rev. Ben Grinage, leader of the group, said demonstrations at a cafe last week that resulted in the arrest of 40 persons were only the beginning in efforts to "clean up Pine Bluff and Jefferson County once and for all."

The meeting came a day after Negro comedian Dick Gregory, whose arrest sparked the demonstrations, left Pine Bluff. An aide of Dr. Martin Luther King, Rev. James Bevel, was featured speaker at the session.

Gregory and white civil rights leader William Hansen were arrested early Monday morning last week and charged with refusing to leave a place of business on request of the management — a misdemeanor. Their trials are set Tuesday.

Hearings for the 40 Negroes, most of them youths, were set today.

They were arrested at the site of the Monday arrests — Ray's Truckers Inn—Tuesday night.

The cafe, normally open 24 hours a day, was sporadically closed and reopened during the week, until Friday afternoon.

An attempt was made Friday to get some 1,000 students from nearby Arkansas AM&N to march on the cafe, and Gov. Orval E. Faubus called the Pine Bluff situation "threatening."

The cafe was locked up before an announcement came from AM&N that there would be no such mass demonstration.

Ray Watson, a co-owner of the cafe, said it would be closed indefinitely, and that he would not serve Negroes, except in the section of the cafe set aside for them.

Gregory was released from jail Friday on $500 bond, and he announced Saturday he was returning to Chicago so the tension over the situation would be eased. The demonstrations were called off.

Hansen and the Negro demonstrators were released on $500 bond each.

Bevel criticized Negroes who he said blame their troubles on the white man. He urged them to take action.

Bevel referred to a Biblical passage in which a sick man lay near healing waters waiting for someone to help him. He compared the Negroes' attitude to that of the man who offered excuses rather than action.

Freedom for the Negro means they can decide their own destiny, Bevel said.

Hoffa Trial Resumes at Chattanooga

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — James R. Hoffa, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, is expected to take the witness stand in his own behalf today or Tuesday in his jury-tampering trial.

The leader of the nation's largest labor union is accused, along with five co-defendants, of trying to fix the jury that heard his conspiracy trial at Nashville in 1962.

The trial begins its sixth week today.

In addition to Hoffa, the defense has said it has other witnesses to call. And government attorneys say they will have some rebuttal witnesses.

Hoffa's codefendants are Larry Campbell, Detroit; Nicholas J. Tweel, Huntington, W. Va.; Allen Dorfman, Chicago; and Thomas Parks and Ewing King of Nashville.

years that they are incompetent," he said.

At Little Rock a Negro leader charged that Gov. Orval Faubus used the Pine Bluff racial trouble for his own aims.

I. S. McClinton, president of the Arkansas Democratic (Negro) Voters Association, said residents of the state "are beginning to recognize that Governor Faubus has through the years used racial disorders and misunderstandings for his own gains."

McClinton said Faubus tried to use the race issue in 1954 during his first campaign for governor, but backed down when the association challenged him. He said the governor has used the racial issue in every campaign since then.

77,714 Negroes Buy Poll Taxes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A record 77,714 Negroes qualified to vote in Arkansas by paying the 1963 poll tax, state Auditor Jimmie Jones said today.

The figure compares with 68,970 Negroes who qualified two years ago and the previous high of 72,604 in 1959.

Jones has been breaking down the poll tax figures each two years since 1957. His calculations are made on those years for which the poll tax qualifies the voter for primary elections.

Jones' county - by - county breakdown shows 14 counties in which there are no Negro voters. Pulaski County has the most—12,960.

Ratification of the 24th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution means that additional voters, both white and Negro, will be able to qualify for this year's elections by registering to vote.

The legislature will meet soon in special session to enact a voter registration law to replace the outlawed poll tax.

Union Boycott

"They are just fighting for bread and butter for their people," said AFL-CIO President George Meany in backing the boycott.

The unions argue that the wheat going to the Soviet Union is partially subsidized by taxpayers' funds and that the government should provide more jobs for American workers by guaranteeing at least 50 per cent shipment in U.S. vessels.

A spokesman for Wirtz said efforts to settle the boycott will continue, but that no new meetings are presently scheduled for Miami Beach or Washington and prospects appeared dim for a quick settlement.

The union leaders are in Miami Beach for the annual meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, which appeared to be a routine session until storm signals were raised over the wheat dispute.

The negotiations broke off several times in an on-again-off-again round of day and night conferences and finally ended when Wirtz departed Sunday night for Washington.

And Unstuck Came the Little Duck

NEW YORK (AP) — The duck was stuck.

Park department employees tried to free it from the ice of Central Park Lake Sunday.

They threw a ladder onto the ice, hoping to break it and dislodge the quacker. The ice stayed firm. So did the duck.

Then someone shoveled a boat out of ice and snow and rowed out, breaking the ice around the duck with an oar.

Unstuck came the duck.

Prosecution in Final Stages

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prosecution's case against three men accused of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr. goes into its final stages today with about eight FBI agents scheduled to testify.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas R. Sheridan said the testimony would concern events leading to the capture of John Irvin, 42; Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23; and Barry W. Keenan, also 23. Young Sinatra allegedly was abducted from a Stateline, Calif., motel last Dec. 8.

The FBI said at least 26 agents were involved in the capture of the three men and recovery of the $240,000 ransom paid for Sinatra's release.

Refuses to Review Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused again today to review the trial of Clayton Dawson, Negro of Memphis who is under a death sentence in Tennessee on conviction of rape of two Negro women.

The high tribunal on June 25, 1962 rejected an appeal by Dawson. He then began habeas corpus proceedings in lower courts. They ruled against him and he filed another appeal with the Supreme Court.

Dawson has contended in his appeals that the Tennessee Legislature refused to reappoint itself and Memphis is in the "most underrepresented county" (Shelby County) in the state. The appeals said Dawson

Women say They'll Fight to the Last

By CARL ROGAN

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — An Oklahoma City woman says her furniture is shrinking.

Another person chides: "You think you're driving us nuts with those booms? Well, we're gonna drive you crazy with calls."

An average of 30 telephone calls, frequently along these lines, has jammed a special switchboard within minutes after a faster-than-sound Air Force jet plane breaks the sound barrier.

Sonic booms from F104 jets split the center of Oklahoma City eight times a day for one purpose: to determine public reaction to the sudden bursts.

The tests began Feb. 3 and apparently most of the affected 750,000 Oklahoma City and surrounding area residents seem to be adjusting rapidly to the joint Federal Aviation Agency and Air Force project.

"There's a definite decrease in the number of telephone calls we're getting now," and FAA official said recently about the reaction on the scheduled 26-week test.

Oklahoma City, home of the FAA's aeronautical center, is the first heavily populated area to become a testing laboratory to determine if public operations might restrict or stop future use of commercial jet cargo planes.

Four homes, all less than 10 years old, also are equipped by the FAA with highly sensitive devices which measure the stresses created by sonic booms on the structures.

"We've found that effects of the sonic booms on them are no greater than from a thunder-clap—and a distant one at that," said J.K. Power, coordinator of the FAA program.

A woman called to say thanks for the booms. Since they started, she told the FAA, "My television reception is much better." What she didn't realize

Malaysian Trouble Again Flares

By TONY ESCONDA

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman declared today Indonesia is mounting "acts of physical aggression" against Malaysia and hostilities may break out any time.

Rahman referred to the grave situation along the 800-mile frontier between the Malaysian states of Sarawak and Sabah, and Indonesia on the island of Borneo.

"The acts of physical aggression mounted under the guise of 'confrontation' could explode into a disaster of major proportions," Rahman told the opening session of the Council on World Tensions, a group of private citizens from 18 nations in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the United States.

Rahman spoke as diplomatic efforts to solve the crisis between Malaysia and Indonesia appeared in danger of collapse. Despite a ceasefire, Indonesia still vows to crush Malaysia.

Indonesia has announced it intends to solve the crisis by its guerrillas in Sarawak and Sabah, and Malaysia has warned it will shoot down Indonesian planes if they try it.

President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines, who has been trying to settle the dispute, left Jakarta with President Sukarno of Indonesia on a trip to Bali, where they will open formal talks Tuesday.

Mrs. Dean Murphy Host To Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Dean Murphy was hostess for a meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Leslie Huddleston Unit 12, on February 18 at 7:30 p.m. The business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Frank King. The chaplain, Mrs. Ben Edmiston, voiced the opening prayer. All joined in singing the "Star Spangled Banner" accompanied by Mrs. Glen Williams at the piano, and the Preamble to the Constitution was repeated in unison. Committee chairmen making reports were: Mrs. Joe Keesey, Americanism; Mrs. Joe Jones, junior activities; Mrs. Cecil Weaver, community service; Mrs. Fred Formby, Poppy Day.

Mrs. W. H. Gunter, treasurer, and Mrs. Dean Murphy, secretary, made reports, and $1.85 was collected for the Pennies for Pan America project. The group voted to buy two United States flags, and with one given by junior members they were presented to first, second, and third grade rooms at Paisley School in a dedication ceremony on February 21. This completed a four-year project in which the Auxiliary placed flags in all rooms at Paisley.

In co-operation with the National President's Project to put patriotic cards beside all Bibles in hotels and motels throughout the country, the local organization contributed $1. Before the business session Mrs. Joe Keesey presented a program on "Americanoism" with three junior members participating. Mrs. Joe Jones introduced Sarah Bagley who summarized briefly the proper display and respect for the U.S. flag. Cookie Jones and Peggy Franks were the narrator and flag bearer, respectively, in a demonstration of the correct way to salute the flag.

Mrs. Keesey reviewed the book, "Challenge of Americans." In emphasizing the challenges now facing the American people she said, "Do not underestimate the strength of Communists, for they will stop at nothing to devote themselves to promoting Communism." She named several ways to meet these challenges, including a town meeting similar to the one held in Hope during the street improvement controversy.

The meeting was closed with the Lord's Prayer. Refreshments were served to 18.

Lilac Garden Club

The DeAnn Lilac Garden Club met Tuesday, February 18 in the home of Mrs. C. R. Samuel with Mrs. Jewel Burke, co-hostess. In the absence of the president, the meeting was called to order by the hostess and she read the scripture, Romans 11:18. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

"Monty" Monts, local florist, was a guest of the club and showed a film on azaleas and camellias. He also made a talk about roses, "How to Plant, Feed, Prune, and Spray for Insects and Diseases." A round-table discussion followed with everyone taking part.

The Samuel home was decorated with permanent flowers placed at vantage points. Mrs. J. M. Arnold was judged to have the best Fruit Bowl Arrangement of those brought by the members. Mrs. J. C. Burke was welcomed as a new member of the club.

Rockefeller Encouraged as Candidate

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Winthrop Rockefeller said Saturday that an increasing number of people are asking him to run for governor because of statements on voter registration made by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Faubus has delayed calling a special legislative session to enact a system until there is more agreement on who should handle voter registration.

Faubus said he would be happy to choose the registrar if the legislature passed three registration bills approved by the Legislative Council. The bills name the assessors, county clerks and sheriffs as voter registrars.

"The fact that Mr. Faubus is perfectly comfortable about having the legislature pass three bills... makes me wonder about the need for legislation," said Rockefeller, Republican National Committeeman for Arkansas.

Rockefeller also replied to a remark by Faubus about a letter Rockefeller sent to the Legislative Council. In the letter Rockefeller suggested the council consider model voter registration laws compiled by the National Municipal League. Faubus called the letter a political gesture.

WHAT MAKES MEN FURIOUS AT WOMEN

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: The other day I asked my husband, "would you marry me again if you had the choice?" and he answered, "Absolutely not."

He was kidding, but to hear a husband say it so bluntly burned me up. I'll admit he's often mad at me. He says things I do would irritate any man, and I'd find out, if I had a second husband.

I realize there are bound to be irritations in marriage I expected them, but will you please tell me this: What are the most frequent things a woman does that makes a man furious? If I knew, perhaps I'd get a different answer when I ask him, "Would you marry me again?"

—W. McC.

Dear W. McC.: Not very long ago, a rather thorough study was made of a sizable number of men, and they were asked, "What makes men furious at women?"

Of course, the questioners came up with more answer than the needed, but there was something interesting about them. By and large, men listed approximately the same things that made them somewhat less than pleased with women. Their criticism was about what women do, and since the men asked were nearly all ages, and from a wide variety of social groups, we can conclude that the listings I'm going to pass on pretty well apply to all men.

The first is in the area of husband-wife discussion, or let's say "conversation." Men hate evasiveness. When they ask a wife for an answer, they have a real and sincere hope they'll get one. But evasion? They bristle. And having a decision thrown back in their lap is in this class.

Sample: Husband asks wife where she wants to go, which restaurant would she prefer, or which movie. Wife to husband: "I don't really care. You decide." Husband decides and wife replies, "Oh, I don't like that too much." Result: husband explodes.

"Example Two" — Men are electorally politically motivated, then I must plead guilty," Rockefeller said.

contradictory in their likes, and they're peeved when they're not understood, even though it's hard to. For instance, a man's eyes will pop at the sight of an attractive stranger in a very low-cut gown. But he feels uncomfortable and conspicuous if his own date or wife wears one. He gets mad at her. The stranger? She's entrancing!

"Situation Three" — No matter how necessary it may seem, men get intensely annoyed if they're told to do something over and over again. Psychologically, it puts them back years to childhood, when their mothers and female teachers kept telling them to do things. Asking a male to do something once equal a request. Telling him three times equals chronic nagging. Asking twice is between the two. You're simply acting nervous today.

"How to start conflict four?" — Tell a man he needs a haircut or a shave, and you offend him more deeply than you think. He construes the criticism as being all out of proportion to the simple suggestion it really is. You degrade him mortally. Why? Psychologists can't figure it out. We just know it's so.

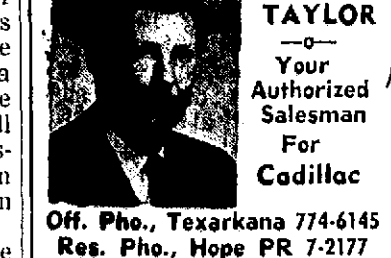

"Five" — Never take a man shopping with you unless you take him to buy something specific you've made up your mind about, and you go directly to the right department where it is. The indecisive, zig-zag shopping of women often sends a man's systolic blood-pressure up some 20 points.

"Trouble-starer six" — Don't contradict a husband in front of other people, his friends, his enemies, or his children. He construes it as a public proclamation that you are the boss, and right away he loses much face.

"The final warning" — All men fancy themselves as great tellers of fancy tales. It's a main prop under male ego. Never, under any circumstances, interrupt what they're saying, or worse still, correct them. It destroys their status. For the rest of the evening, they feel anything they say will be questioned, and open to doubt, and it's all your fault.

Help Church a Song to Lasting Fame

By JOE MCKNIGHT WICHITA, Kans. (AP)—Out of 77 years of memories, one of the proud recollections for Lester Weatherwax is having helped a church and a song to international fame.

Lester and his brothers, Bill, Asa and Tom, brought renewed popularity to a small Iowa church and the song associated with it—"The Church in the Wildwood." Although that was two generations ago the song and the church continue to be widely known.

The brothers, natives of an Iowa farm, had formed a quartet known as The Weatherwax Boys. Lester sang baritone, Tom the bass, Asa first tenor and Bill second tenor. They became well known in the early years of this century and traveled the United States and Canada from 1910 until 1921. A few years later Lester settled in Wichita.

Still slim and unusually active for his 77 years, Lester recalls vividly the night in St. Louis when a member of the audience asked the quartet to sing "The Church in the Wildwood."

"We were flabbergasted," he recalls. "It didn't fit in with our classical program. But we sang it and the response was overwhelming." Their rendition of the song became so popular that within a few weeks the brothers began building their programs around it. Each time they sang it they told the history of the song and of the real church in the wildwood.

They knew it well for their farm home near Charles City, Iowa, was only a dozen miles from the place where the little church was built a century ago and still stands.

The song was written in 1857, three years before construction began on the church at Bradford, Iowa. The congregation had been organized in 1855 as the First Congregational Church of Bradford. The town is now extinct but another town by the same name has grown up 60 miles away.

After rising to some degree of fame, the church began declining along with the town, which had lost a bid for a railroad. The town disappeared but the church remained and became a rural church near Nashua, Iowa.

"The little brown church of Bradford seemed to be going the way of so many of America's rural churches," said Weatherwax.

Then the Weatherwax boys began singing and telling about "The Church in the Wildwood."

"Travelers began seeking out Nashua and the little church about which we told them," Weatherwax said. "By 1915-16 the church had been restored to its original state."

"We count it a God-given opportunity to have been a part of spreading the story and the song of the shrine."

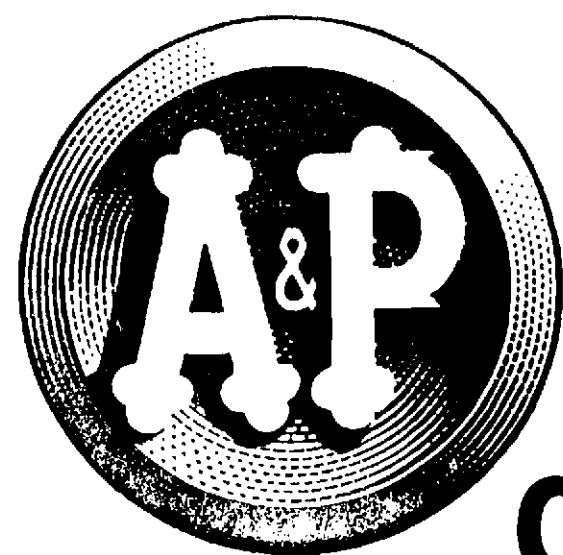

Of the Weatherwax boys, Asa died in 1940 and Tom in 1962. William, now 90, is in a rest home in Iowa.

Lester retired in 1962 after serving for 32 years as minister of music at the First Methodist Church of Wichita.

Tech, A&M to Battle It Out This Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas Tech's embattled Red Raiders, still embued with championship hopes although a game back of the leading Texas Aggies, make what could be their last bid for the Southwest Conference basketball championship Tuesday night.

Tech must beat Texas A&M on its own court — something few teams ever do — to pull into a tie for the lead. A loss would drop Tech two games back and virtually out of the picture.

The fight is only between Texas A&M and Texas Tech now. Tech ripped Southern Methodist 94-83 last week and that dropped SMU two games behind Tech and three back of Texas A&M.

All the teams have four games left to play and Texas A&M is in the best shape for the finish since it gets three at home, including Tech, Southern Methodist and Texas. Only winless Texas Christian is to be played on the road.

The Aggies won their last tough one away Saturday when they came from behind in the last minutes to whip Arkansas 60-57 at Fayetteville.

Texas A&M, Texas and Rice all won two games, and as a result the Aggies surged to a 9-1 record. Tech to 8-2 and Rice to 6-4. Rice moved into a tie for third place with Southern Methodist.

Southern Methodist and Arkansas play at Dallas Tuesday night while Texas and Rice clash at Austin and Baylor and Texas Christian continue a cellar fight when they get together at Fort Worth.

Thursday Southern Methodist and Texas A&M battle at College Station. Saturday Texas Tech plays Arkansas at Fayetteville in an afternoon game. Texas Christian and Rice meet at Houston in a day game that will be televised. Texas and Baylor play at Waco Saturday night.

Rice's Kendall Rhine poked in 43 points last week to bring his total to 476 points and a 50-point lead over Bennie Lenox of Texas A&M, who managed 49 points for a 426 total.

Lenox continued to lead in conference scoring with 228 points compared to 221 for Rhine.

Now that Mr. Consistency has proved the right to his name and Mongo has shown that the 1963 record was no mistake, the 3-year-olds take over the American turf's spotlight this week with the renewal of the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby.

The Santa Anita Derby, at 1 1/2 miles Saturday, is the first of three one hundred grand plus races leading up to the May 2 running of the Kentucky Derby. The $100,000-added Flamingo comes March 3 at Hialeah Park and the $100,000-added Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park April 4.

Mr. Consistency, a 6-year-old owned by Mrs. Ann Peppers of Los Angeles, and Mongo from the Montpelier stable of Mrs. Marion Scott won Saturday's richest handicap races.

Mr. Consistency, with Ken Church in the saddle, won the $147,100 Santa Anita Handicap, at 1 1/2 miles, with Wayne Chambers astride, took the $130,800 Widen-er Handicap at Hialeah Park in the role of the $7,600 for $2 favorite. Mr. Consistency paid $13.00 as highly regarded Gun Bow, winner of his three previous stakes starts by wide margins, wound up seventh in the field of 18. Doc Jocoy was second, two-quarters of a length back, and Cyranio third.

There was little difference in the times of the two winners. Mr. Consistency, carrying 120 pounds, was clocked in 2:01 for the 1 1/2 miles and Mongo, packing 125, in 2:01 1/5 over the same distance.

UCLA Has 1 to Go to Stay Unbeaten

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA, whose previous NCAA basketball tournament performances have been almost as perfect in reverse as its unbeaten record this season, can clinch the Big Six title and another berth in the post-season play tonight at Washington.

By winning their 23rd game against Washington, a team they've whipped twice already, the Bruins can go into the tournament for the third straight year and sixth time altogether.

The nation's No. 1 team clinched at least a tie for the conference championship with a come-from-behind 100-88 triumph over Stanford Saturday night.

Among the other top ten teams, Michigan, Kentucky, Duke, Wichita, Oregon State and Davidson won while Villanova and Drake were upset. DePaul didn't play.

Leading UCLA's attack have been senior Walt Hazzard and junior Gail Goodrich. They did it again Saturday night, scoring 53 points between them. Hazzard had 27 and Goodrich 26.

Each, however, was outscored by Stanford's Tom Dose, who pitched in 38 points. In fact, the Bruins had to throw up a full-court press in the second half before they could overcome a 42-37 halftime deficit.

Kentucky, 20-2, moved into the lead of the Southeastern Conference, ripping Auburn 99-79 while Georgia upset Georgia Tech 81-68. Kentucky and Georgia Tech had been tied for first, but now a Wildcats' victory coupled with a Yellow Jackets' defeat would end the race.

Both teams play tonight, Kentucky at Alabama and Georgia Tech at Florida.

Michigan, 18-3, remains deadlocked with Ohio State for the Big Ten lead after an easy 103-59 decision over Wisconsin. If the season ends that way, though, the Wolverines still will win the NCAA berth since Ohio State went to the tournament more recently.

Davidson, 21-3, opens its bid for the Southern Conference spot Thursday against The Citadel, which it beat 86-78 Saturday night. The tournament ends Saturday.

Duke, 18-4, must wait until next week before battling in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament. The Blue Devils clinched first place in regular season play, wallowing Maryland 84-63.

Drake, hoping to skyrocket from last to first in the Missouri Valley Conference in one season, was dethroned slightly by Cincinnati 61-55, its fifth loss in 23 games.

The defeat, combined with Wichita's 86-71 triumph against St. Louis, threw the MVC race into a tie. Wichita, 19-5, plays Tulsa and North Texas State, while Drake meets Tulsa and St. Louis.

Both Fighters Appear to Be Confident

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"Between one and three, you'll be on the way home," a confident but edgy Sonny Liston predicted today after finishing training for his Tuesday night's heavyweight title defense against the brash and boastful Cassius Clay.

"I'll just hit him hard enough to put him away," the muscled, awesome-looking champion added after a fast-paced, 45-minute final workout at the Surfside Civic Center, "and that should be soon. I have never been sharper for a fight in my life."

If Liston's nerve-jarring words had any effect on the rival camp, Clay and his handlers were doing a superb job of being completely unimpressed.

"I'll outbox him in seven rounds and knock him out in the eighth," said Clay, the poem-spouting Louisville Lip whose fast fists and glib tongue have brought him to threshold of boxing's richest prize.

The 22-year-old, handsome descendant of a Kentucky slave, completed his training routine Saturday, a day earlier than the champion, and confined himself Sunday to a leisurely stroll over the Miami Beach front—with his perennial cane.

His associates were equally unimpressed—on the surface, at least—of facing a ring killer who has demolished his last three opponents in the opening round.

"This kid is completely unafraid," Angelo Dundee, Clay's trainer, said of Liston. "He is so anxious to get at Liston, he is about to jump out of his skin. And he is supremely sure of himself. In this one thing, I assure you, he's not pulling a bluff."

"I'll be the most surprised man in the world if he doesn't beat Liston and take the championship."

Unfortunately, Dundee's opinion is not shared by the boxing public and, as a result, the fight scheduled for 10 p.m. EST, at the modernistic, pink Convention Hall looms as a certain financial flop at the gate.

Bill MacDonald, the millionaire promoter who had to guarantee $625,000 for the event, acknowledged that so far sales had amounted to only $330,000 and that a late rush would be necessary to meet the $800,000 "nut."

Fans apparently see little sense in paying these prices for seats behind the ringside and for a fight that the so-called experts figure may last no more than a round—three to five at the most. Liston needed only a total of six minutes and 14 seconds to kayo Floyd Patterson twice and Albert Westphal.

Liston has been established a 7-1 favorite in the betting, with even money, or 6-5 and take your choice, that Clay doesn't answer the bell for the sixth.

"Actually there is little betting on the fight," a Las Vegas betting representative said. "What there is deals with the round that the fight will end, and not on the outcome of the fight itself."

Although a likely turkey at the gate, the fight probably will be saved financially—for all except MacDonald and his associates—by the closed network television which is expected to feature the bout.

Both teams play tonight, Kentucky at Alabama and Georgia Tech at Florida.

Michigan, 18-3, remains deadlocked with Ohio State for the Big Ten lead after an easy 103-59 decision over Wisconsin. If the season ends that way, though, the Wolverines still will win the NCAA berth since Ohio State went to the tournament more recently.

Davidson, 21-3, opens its bid for the Southern Conference spot Thursday against The Citadel, which it beat 86-78 Saturday night. The tournament ends Saturday.

Duke, 18-4, must wait until next week before battling in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament. The Blue Devils clinched first place in regular season play, wallowing Maryland 84-63.

Drake, hoping to skyrocket from last to first in the Missouri Valley Conference in one season, was dethroned slightly by Cincinnati 61-55, its fifth loss in 23 games.

The defeat, combined with Wichita's 86-71 triumph against St. Louis, threw the MVC race into a tie. Wichita, 19-5, plays Tulsa and North Texas State, while Drake meets Tulsa and St. Louis.

Oregon State, one of the NCAA's independent teams, won its 23rd game in 26 starts, trampling Idaho 112-62.

Villanova, another tournament independent, fell to a Philadelphia neighbor, St. Joseph's, 69-63. The loss was the third for the Wildcats against 19 victories.

Finley Signs 4-Year Pact With K.C.

LA PORTE, Ind. (AP) —

Charles O. Finley did an about face Sunday night and decided to accept a four-year lease to have his Athletics play in Kansas City. But his battle with the American League appeared a long way from being settled.

Finley's decision from his La Porte home came 48 hours after the league had voted 9-1 to take steps to expel the stormy owner of the Kansas City baseball club.

American League President Joe Cronin was in the process of calling a meeting for Finley's ouster and disenfranchisement when Finley came up with his surprise acceptance.

Following Friday's vote against him, Finley, through his attorney, Louis Nizer, said he would make no further move until after the next league meeting which now becomes unnecessary.

However, The Associated Press previously quoted a reliable source that Nizer had advised Finley to let himself be forced into accepting a contract, which the league called "fair and reasonable," and then sue the league because he was made to sign under duress a contract he didn't want.

With the opening of spring training less than a week away and the season ready to begin in less than two months, the positions of both Finley and the American League were reaching a point of throwing the 1964 campaign into a turmoil.

Finley, who during his period of bickering had signed a contract to play in Louisville, Ky., and had several times requested the league to give him permission to move to Oakland,

June 1, 1964, 451 persons to 271 centers for a take of $4 million-plus. Liston's pay day probably will amount to $1,360,000 and Clay's to $600,000—the latter not bad for a young fighter who was an amateur and Uncle Sam's Olympic champion at Rome in 1960.

Liston looked in superb physical condition Sunday as he whipped through his final training paces before a crowd of WCC Center. He shadow-boxed against a live target for three rounds, hit the small bag, skipped rope and did 100 situps.

Liston was sour and cryptic at his final press conference but he injected moments of high humor. He is as quick with the quip as with the jab.

A reporter asked him if he thought he had improved in the last three years.

"What do you think?" Liston shot back.

"Well, we haven't seen much of you," the reporter replied, referring to the quick knockouts.

"That's why think I've improved," the champion retorted.

Liston Looks, Acts Like a Real Killer

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—1 felt Sonny Liston's muscle for $5. "How ya, champ," I said nervously, trying to start a conversation.

The hulking, phlegmatic heavyweight champion gave me a cold, animal-like stare that sent icicles dancing up my spine.

"Get going," a man on the stage said brusquely, hustling me out a side door.

"Next."

I was No. 7 in a queue of 32, who lined up in the bustling Surfside Civic Center training quarters to have their picture taken—at $5 a throw—with the sullen ring killer.

I was between Boy Scout Troop No. 18, a group of bug-eyed youngsters in green uniforms, and a giggling housewife in a pink sack dress, who kept gushing, "Isn't this just too exciting for words?"

Having a picture taken with Liston has been one of the privileges of the spectators attending his workouts for the Tuesday night title defense against loud-mouth Cassius Clay.

The tense line formed at the wooden steps, leading to the stage. Liston, who has just finished 45 minutes of almost unbroken shadow-boxing, bag punching and rope skipping, wrapped himself in a white robe and took his stance against the wall.

A man in a three-button suit and striped tie, the executive type, strode over and took Liston's hand.

The champion gave him an expressionless stare.

A pot-bellied truck driver struck up a boxing pose. Liston obligingly raised his hands in a similar pose, but didn't blink an eyelash.

A juncos dish in white torador pants and dyed silver hair was next.

Liston grabbed her, picked her off the ground in a swoop and held her in his arms like a bridegroom ready to carry his bride across the threshold.

The lady squealed delightedly. Liston didn't crack a smile. "Isn't he gorgeous?" the lady gushed.

When No. 7 game, I decided I'd try to crack the champion's frigid interior.

I got only that withering glare. I shivered, and passed on as flash bulbs popped.

The muscle? It felt like a ham hock back in Tennessee.

NLR Clings to Lead in Basketball

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Little Rock held its first place rank in the Associated Press prep basketball poll this week, and Valley Springs, a red hot, undefeated Class AA squad, moved into a tie for second.

Valley Springs is the only non-Big Ten team in the upper echelon of the poll and was in fifth place last week. Its season record is 42-0.

Blytheville, third last week, tied with Valley Springs and El Dorado — in second place last week — dropped to fourth. The others in order are Pine Bluff, Fort Smith, Jonesboro, Paragould, Harrison and DeLight.

Pine Bluff moved from sixth to fifth. Fort Smith came up a notch to sixth, and Jonesboro, which dropped a non-conference game to North Little Rock last week, dropped from fourth to seventh.

Paragould stayed eighth, and Harrison, tied last week with Little Rock Central for ninth, took over sole possession of that spot.

Delight pushed Central out of the top ten. It was unrated last week but tenth two weeks ago.

Rice Is Big Industry in Arkansas

By J. C. TILLMAN

Associated Press Writer

Fifty years ago farmers on the rolling Grand Prairie area in East Arkansas looked dejectedly at land they knew held their future, but wouldn't produce cash crops.

They had good land, and they knew it. But they weren't sure how to use it best.

Then a few farmers started planting rice. To their surprise the grain thrived and produced a profit. Acreage was gradually increased until they were convinced the prairie could be depended on to support rice.

But there were problems.

While rice was compatible with the soil of the prairie, it required new varieties and growing methods untried in the area.

The farmers took their problems to the University of Arkansas and asked for help.

They got it, and today, Arkansas is the leading rice producing state of the nation with a crop valued at over $80 million annually.

The answer? Research.

University President David W. Mullins says, "The world travels on research." And most of the experiments in the state stem from the campuses of the state school.

The Arkansas rice story is only one of the dramas to come from laboratories and experimental farms operated by the university in conjunction with the federal government.

A small investment in soybean research yielded $6 million in additional income to farmers.

The University Medical Center has made important contributions to open heart surgery, prevention of cancer, treatment of tuberculosis, leukemia and other diseases.

The center has made two kidney transplants and a research-minded pharmacist found a chemical in Dallas grass which is valuable in treatment of mental illness.

Research at university facilities ranges from the proper depth of fat on the back of a hog to intricate electronics systems parts in the space program; from new strains of cotton to more effective treatment of anemia.

Yet despite the fact that investment in research totals more than $6.5 million a year, that program remains the most underdeveloped arm of the institution in comparison with other schools.

Funds to operate the university's research programs come from state and federal governments, from foundations, businesses, industries and individuals.

Arkansas ranks 15th among 16 states in the Southern Region in the amount of research conducted. Only West Virginia is lower.

The university spends about $3 million a year on agricultural research, $2.5 million in medical research and $1.2 million in other areas.

The only way the university could gain an appreciable increase in research funds would be higher federal participation, more state appropriations or increased interest on the part of businessmen and foundations.

The Agriculture Department is calling for increased funds for research, saying there will be 18 to 20 million more Americans to feed by 1968 and more efficient production methods are needed.

The department also says by 1968 the farmer will take home nine per cent less money for his efforts than he now does unless more efficient methods are found.

The university and the state are actively seeking expanded space research facilities at the Graduate Institute of Technology.

The benefits of the agricultural research are channeled to the farmer and consumer through the Agricultural Extension Service, headquartered in Little Rock.

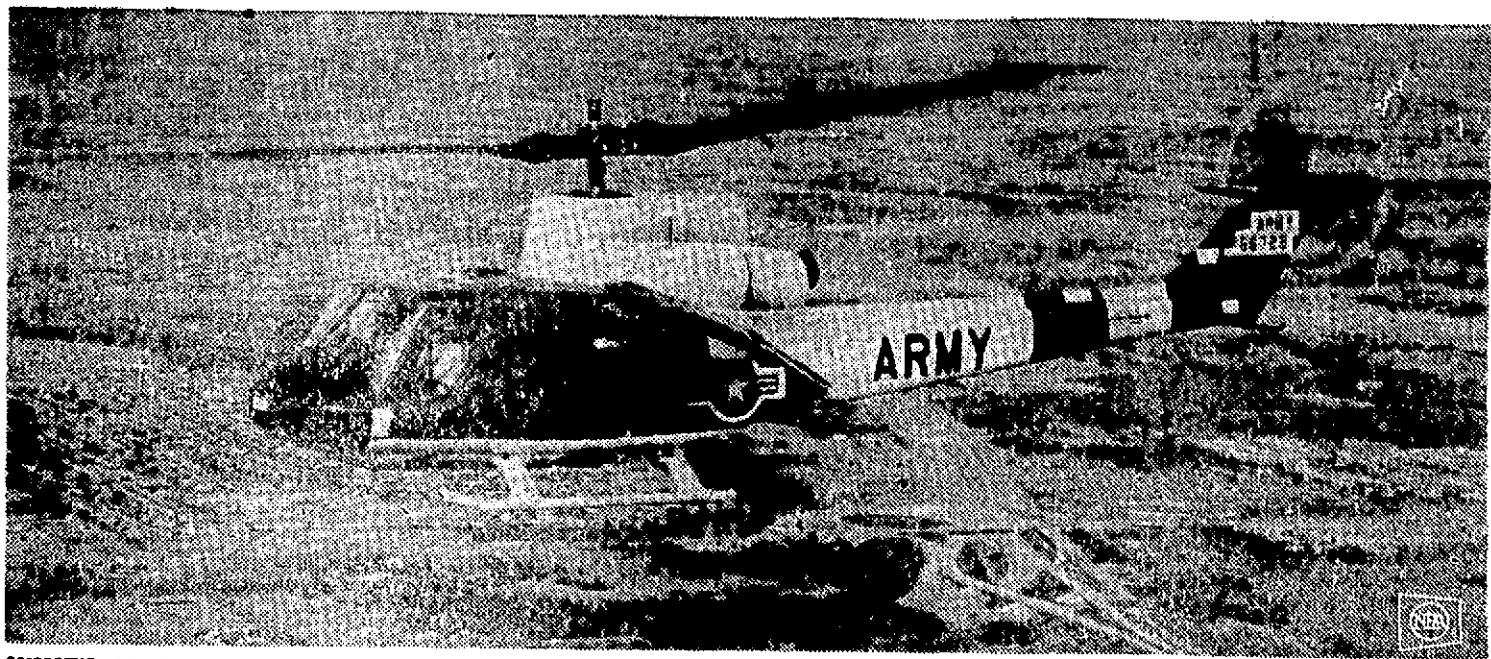

This service directs the work of county and home demonstration agents throughout the state.

Discovery Solves Many Atom Secrets

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—A new discovery apparently takes scientists a giant step toward solving the most baffling of atomic secrets.

Using the world's most powerful atom-smasher, they found a rare atomic particle called omega minus.

In itself, the new particle is only one more among 80 to 100 such nuclear particles discovered in the last dozen years.

The puzzlement is why so awfully many "animals" can be detected in or coming from the nuclei or hearts of atoms. There are so many that physicists call them the "nuclear zoo."

Finding one more animal could just add to this headache.

But discovery of omega minus confirms a theory which could bring order out of the chaos in the zoo. This theory, known as the eightfold way, predicted that omega minus should exist and predicted very correctly what it should be like.

Now physicists can devise experiments that promise to explain what the hearts of atoms are really made of, how particles inter-react and stick together, or change from one form to another, or whatever it is that happens in this universe of inner space.

This is the meaning in the news Wednesday that 33 physicists at Brookhaven National Laboratory, Upton, N.Y., have detected omega minus, using Brookhaven's half-mile-long Alternating Gradient Synchrotron.

Omega minus, with negative electric charge, is invisible and lives only about 10 billionths of a second.

CHAPTER XXXI

We got up, brushed the dust from our trousers and walked to the Last Chance Gas. There I met Pablo de la Pena. He was a gross man, with two black beetles for eyes in the caves above his cheeks and a shock of hair shot forward over his brow, as though he were an actor from the method school learning to play Pancho Villa.

Jorge explained the situation, his gentle Spanish crackling as though it had been let loose on a string of firecrackers.

My young friend turned to me. "Do you have $50?"

They had taken my gun, but not my wallet. Probably they had decided it should remain for part of the drama they were building. I counted out $50 for Jorge to give his cousin, and then $10 more which I said was for his sister.

Jorge grinned and explained to his cousin.

Pablo grinned and I grinned and everyone was happy.

and put a carton of beer bottles on the floor of the cab.

As we started for El Puerto, I wondered how much I could depend on Jimmy Turner.

The night was gray with morning when we came into El Puerto. The steel gray waters of the Gulf of California stirred restlessly, but without waves or anger.

Two metal sheds, Jorge told me, were where the "merchandise" hustled by his friends was kept. I simply could not see Herbert O'Brien having any interest in that kind of goods. "I am a rich woman," Maggie had told me, and Gail had more than confirmed it.

"There is the boat," Jorge pointed. It was a motor sailer of 40 feet more or less, with a tall, single mast forward of the cockpit and a cabin both fore and aft. It had the appearance of custom construction and scarcely looked like what a fugitive bartender could afford.

Jorge said the redhead told his sister about the boats people hung out for stealing because they figured a boat couldn't walk away. Still, you don't pull

"In the truck. She wants to see you. The redhead is coming. Also the woman. Many are dead. It's a very bad thing."

The ex-bartender stood looking at Jorge. "I knew it," he said finally.

"Please," Jorge said urgently, "we must hurry! They stopped in Nogales to catch a man. I do not know how long."

"What man?"

"A man who came looking for you. Also the one called Solly. He is now dead with his throat cut in Phoenix."

Turner swore. "This man who came looking for me, where did he come from?"

"From the one called the Jinx, who is also dead."

Turner swore again, elegantly, with some special words for the redhead. He said, "You get the dinghy over the side while I get on a pair of pants." He swung and descended to the cabin.

Jorge grinned at me from the deck of the ship. Then, God bless him, he threw a line carelessly into the water.

Sizeable Gains in Betting at Spa

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Attendance and betting showed sizeable gains over the same period last season at Oaklawn Park.

The first seven days of racing brought an increase of almost 14 per cent in attendance—74,836 this year to 65,655—and a mutual handle increase of 11.6 per cent.

The mutual handle figures, still unofficial, show the machines handled $3,990,518, compared to last year's seven-day total of $3,575,318.

After seven days, the jockey who has brought in the most winners is Ronnie Campbell with nine. Four wins Saturday helped him to his one-win lead over Jack Fieselman.

Other leading jockeys were Larry Spraker with seven winners and Robert Nono with five.

Youth Paces Clarke to New Record

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Gerry Lindgren is a shy, skinny little kid who seemed a bit awed by the Big Town. Awe, that is, right up until the starter's gun sounded for the three-mile race in Madison Square Garden.

Then the trail-appearing, 17-year-old, 115-pounder from Spokane's John Rogers High stepped out to a quick lead, repulsed a couple of early challenges by Australia's Ron Claruchock most of an international field into the boards and paced Clarke for the indoor record.

Clarke's brilliant 13:18.4 effort, which clipped six full seconds off the listed record, won him honors as the outstanding athlete in the 76th national AAU indoor track and field championships Saturday.

Earlier, burly Bob Hayes, a sometimes football player from Florida A&M, bolted to a long-awaited 5.9 record in the 60-yard dash, eclipsing the 6 flat he shared with several others.

Lindgren, making his first attempt ever at three miles indoors, ran third behind Clarke and New York veteran Pete McArdle, who was timed in 13:32.6.

Lindgren was caught in 13:37.8, just eight-tenths of a second over the American citizen's listed mark.

A third indoor record was set by the North Carolina College sprint medley relay team, finishing in 1:51.3. Andrew McCray, Norman Tate, Robert Johnson and Edwin Roberts ran legs of 440, 100, 220 and 300 yards.

In addition, Detroit's Hayes Jones equalled the meet record of 7 seconds flat in the 60-yard high hurdles, NYU's Gary Gubner set a meet mark with a 63-2 1/2 shot put and Maryland State's mile relay team broke the meet record at 3:16.2.

Tommy Davis Gets Sizeable Baseball Raise

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

"The bigger strike zone made some difference. I went after bad pitches more than I would have before."

The outfielder who said that knows what he's talking about. In 1962, he hit .346 with 27 homers and 153 runs batted in, and last year dipped in all three departments to .326, 16 homers and 88 RBI.

How much was he cut? Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers, the slumper in question, received a $15,000 raise, getting a boost to the $42,500 neighborhood during the weekend when he signed his 1964 baseball contract.

Davis can join a select group this season if he wins the batting title for the third straight year. Only Ty Cobb, Honus Wagner, Rogers Hornsby and Stan Musial have been able to win three or more titles in a row.

Musial was the last to accomplish the feat, winning from 1951 to 1953.

Davis won his second straight title by only six points over Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente, who signed with the Pirates during the weekend along with pitcher Joe Gibbon.

Five players signed with Cincinnati, third baseman Chico Ruiz, outfielders Marty Keough and Deron Johnson, catcher Jim Campbell and pitcher Ted Davidson. The New York Mets were next in quantity with three pitchers, Al Jackson, Craig Anderson and Galen Cisco.

Outfielder Don Lock signed with Washington, pitcher John Wyatt with Kansas City and pitcher Danny Rivas with the Los Angeles Angels.

Permanent Registration Act Planned

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Committee on Voter Registration voted Sunday to sponsor an initiative act for permanent voter registration in the November general election if the legislature passes a bill it considers unacceptable.

The citizens committee, headed by Rep. Hardy Croxton of Benton County, has drafted what it calls a model voter registration bill.

Croxton and Rep. Jim Brandon of Little Rock will introduce the bill at the upcoming special legislative session. The committee feels, however, the chances for passage of its bill are slim or non-existent.

The committee met Sunday at a Little Rock hotel.

Its "model" bill differs in many ways from the three bills drawn up by the Legislative Council for consideration by the special legislative session.

The council bills differ only on what county office will be designated as voter registrar.

Under the Croxton committee bill, there would be permanent registration handled by the county clerk's office. Also there would be no party preference designation, and the registrar would have to be made in person, except in special cases.

The registration period under the committee's bill would be from Jan. 1 to May 1.

Groups represented on the committee include the League of Women Voters, the Arkansas AFL-CIO, the American Association of University Women and the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce.

Hope Gets by Magnolia in Real Squeaker, 71 to 70

JOHNNY REINHARDT, 20, OF HOPE, goes down court with ball leaving two Magnolia Panthers in his wake. At left is Hope's Johnny Honeycutt, 32.

Hope defeated Magnolia Saturday night at Jones Field House 71 to 70.

HONEYCUTT'S JUMP SNAGS THE BALL from Magnolia's No. 11. Beyond Honeycutt is Hope's Paul Henley, with fellow player Dan Jones, 44, in center background.

—Contax photos, Alex. H. Washburn

THE BOBCATS' JERRY BURNETT, 4, stands poised with the ball encircled by three hostile Panthers.

Also poised for offensive action is his teammate, Dan Jones.

DAN JONES HAS THE BALL AT CLOSE quarters with three men from Magnolia, while in the background is Bobcat Ronnie Ingram.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S VICTORY MADE THE season record of Coach Billy Mitchell's Bobcats 15 victories against 5 defeats, and in the conference 7 wins compared with 3 losses.

HOPE HAS TWO GAMES REMAINING, both against conference foes. Friday night the Bobcats play Camden's Fairview here, and Saturday night they complete conference play at Crossett. Next week the Bobcats enter the 4-AA district tournament —to be played probably at Malvern, with Hope having an outside chance of hosting the tourney.

Bobcats Have Tough Game With Magnolia

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sportswriter

Someone has been in the first Outscored in all the First Quarter, the Bobcats still led Magnolia in a close battle, 10-10, at the 17:30 mark. The score then was 21-20 in favor of the Bobcats. The Panthers on the other hand, were still in the lead, 24-21, at the 19:00 mark.

Lady Luck smiled on Hope. Scoring in the 20:00 mark, the Bobcats led 24-21. The Panthers on the other hand, were still in the lead, 24-21, at the 19:00 mark.

A lay score, third period saw the Hope advantage cut down even more, 33-21. Things begin to liven up. But for the Cats' fast break, the Panthers might have shoveled in the lead, but Hope was hanging on for dear life.

The Cats maintained the gap for most of the Fourth Quarter, but with less than four minutes to go, Magnolia made the move. Gaining points quickly, they began to smell pay dirt. Becoming thoroughly enthralled at the very idea of coming from behind, they began to crack down. The Cats' lead dropped from 66-59 to 66-61.

Driggers went to the charity line, and the Hope lead was nullified. The score stood at 66-66, with just under three minutes still to play. Hope shifted from their zone to a man to man defense.

Everyone got thoroughly rattled. Reinhardt missed on a 1-1, but Jones missed on a close in. Reinhardt missed on a close in. Reinhardt missed on a close in.

Finally, with 1:30 to go, Honeycutt was able to put Hope "up on the tallies, and the Cats moved out to 71-70.

Thus injured, Henley, with a flurry of bandits, effected a steal and a successful lay-up. It was now 70-66.

With less than a minute remaining, Honeycutt fouled Driggers, who wrung the 1-1 for all it was worth, and moved the Panthers to within striking distance again, at 70-68.

Driggers was fouled again, this time by Burnett, and he again sacked both, tying the game up at 70-70.

Burnett was then fouled by Driggers with 31 seconds left. Going to the line with a 1-1, he made the first one to make it 71-70. Hope. The second fell short but the ball was tied up.

Magnolia controlled with 15 seconds on the clock, moving rather slowly now. A Thrash interception kept them from scoring.

Burnett went to the foul line, missed, and Jones got the rebound. He too missed, though, and Magnolia went down. They couldn't quite get on the shot, however, and Hope came out on top 71-70.

In answer to the questions of many fans, the Bobcat managers swore that they didn't let any ants loose under the Magnolia bench. It just seems that they are in the habit of jumping up down all during the game.

Scoring for the Bobcats: Bill Reinhardt had 21, to be high pointer. Johnny Honeycutt and Jerry Burnett had 15 each, Dan Jones 10, Paul Henley 8, and Ronnie Ingram 2.

The Bobkittens didn't fare quite as well over at Sinackover. However, and had to settle for runner-up in the District after their 39-7 loss at the hands of the Sinackover Juniors.

The trouble was, they kept getting caught with their feet in the Sinackover players' mouths. Outscored at the foul line 13-5, their three more field goals couldn't turn the trick.

Although they led 32-23 going into the final period, they were forced to watch their lead melt away and turn against them. Danny Wilson and Mike Westbrook had 16 each for Hope, Larry Don Wright had 6, Stannie

Parris and Dennis Turner 4

Jockey at Spa Is Suspended

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Apprentice jockey Wayne Frederick is on suspension for five calendar days. Oaklawn Park Stewards unseated him Saturday for careless riding in the apiece, and Richard Salter 3. The Juniors earned a berth in the State Tourney at Paragould by winning the semi-finals.

The "B" Boys had little trouble romping Magnolia by the big margin of 66-39 at home.

In the sucking column for the locals were Dennis Ramsey, high with 23, Buddy Jordan 20, the Destructive Duo, Jimmy Johnson and Andy High with 6 and 5 respectively. Jack Watkins and Bobby McGill 4 apiece, Virgil McNatt 3, and Paul Guerin 1.

Good Deed Was Performed

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) —A good deed performed last year has caught up with C. C. Green of Wichita Falls.

When Green found a wallet containing $1,100 in Brownwood, Tex., he handed it over to police for return to the owner.

In turn he received a telephone call from Wichita Falls police headquarters Saturday. Somebody had found Green's wallet and turned it in.
